

For Immediate Release
June 23, 2009

Contact: Thom Householder, Front Burner PR
(207) 699-5501, thom@frontburnerpr.com

Cinque Terre Launches Nightly Prosecco Happy Hour

Prosecco cocktails and antipasti plates mark beginning of warm-weather dining on Wharf Street.

Portland, Maine – Cinque Terre (36 Wharf Street, www.cinqueterremaine.com) will host a Prosecco Happy Hour this summer each night from 5 – 7 pm. Cinque Terre’s cozy patio and lively bar are the settings for this festive event.

Prosecco, Italy’s leading sparkling white wine, is excellent by itself and is often used in cocktails. Chef Lee Skawinski and his team have developed a menu of Prosecco cocktails and a companion menu of seasonal antipasti. Cocktails and antipasti items are priced at $5 each during the happy hour.

“Summers in Maine are fantastic,” noted co-owner and executive chef Lee Skawinski, “and I think we’ve created a great way for people to relax with friends, enjoy our local foods, and discover new wine favorites.”

About Cinque Terre:

Cinque Terre’s Ligurian-themed menu features only the freshest vegetables and greens from its own Grand View Farm; local meats, fish, and other seasonal ingredients; and award-winning wine list in a casual relaxing setting.

Cinque Terre was named one of America’s top ten farm-to-table restaurants by Epicurious.com in 2008, and named a “soil-to-table inspiration” this year by GQ.

#